ANNOUNCEMENTS AND CORRESPONDENCE

PRESIDENT’S REPORT
President Son thanked the senators for their involvement around campus the last few weeks. The LEAD Center is trying to start a new tradition. The Freshmen Tunnel Run will be this weekend. The freshmen run from one side of the field to other at the first home football game. The ISU Rodeo is Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. They are looking for support, and they would like to introduce the senators to the audience and give them free T-shirts. Next week, the Senate meeting will be in the Wood River Room. The I Love ISU campaign is at the same time. President Son wondered if the senators wanted to volunteer and make calls from 6:00-7:00pm next Wednesday. ASISU is going to do a float for the Homecoming Parade. Kelly Martinez from KORR 104 offered to DJ the ASISU float, if they want. The College of Business is putting on their Professional Development Week. President Son recommended holding off on the scholarship bills for this week. He thinks that they need to have more discussion about the changes first. He is also going to create an ad hoc committee for scholarships, so they can meet with Deb Green when making these decisions. He also thought they could meet with students to discuss changes with them too. The Ambush is next week. So far they have gotten $7,000 in donations and sponsorships. He thanked Communications for their help with ASISU’s social media. Senator Moniak asked where the rodeo takes place. President Son clarified that it takes place at the Bannock Fair Grounds. The event is free to students. Senator Pitcock thinks that the I Love ISU Campaign would be a good use of the senators’ time. They raised a few thousand dollars in a half hour of calling last year. Senator Kemmerer thinks that the Professional Development Week is great, and the senators should try to make it to one of the events.
