PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

MOVE TO APPROVE THE MINUTES FROM SEPTEMBER 18, 2013 WITH THE FOLLOWING AMMENDMENT:
Senator Harker would like to add a few key things to the address. Senator Pitcock noted that the discussions are recorded and anyone can listen to them. Senator Brock noted that it is easier to look at the minutes on paper. He felt that some things should have been on the minutes that weren’t. It is better to have them in both places. Senator Munson noted that Robert’s Rules of Order doesn’t require the additional comments. Senator Harker agreed that the secretary is only required to take down the basics, but he stated that if the secretary is going above and beyond then she should include everything. Senator Hudson noted that none of the senators should be able to go back and pick what comments to go in. Senator Brock meant that as a group the senators should decide what to put in the minutes. Senator Fuller wondered if the students would be upset with the senators who were not in favor of moving the meetings to raise the scholarship money. Senator O’Neil pointed out that the students could go to the meetings if they wanted to. The students should decide who is wrong or right. He feels that the senators are not here to look good or bad but to function. It shouldn’t matter what others think of it. They can discuss it elsewhere. Previous. Roll Call.

PRESIDENT’S REPORT
President Bloxham thanked Idaho Falls Vice President Thompson for his hospitality. They are moving forward on the Bengal eyes. The Idaho Falls SAB is working on activities that also include University of Idaho students and branding, since they come here too. President Bloxham was approached by an Arts and Letters chair about the Bengal eyes. They were concerned that the money should be spent on students and that the university should pay. President Bloxham agrees but the administration doesn’t. He hopes that the university will see that the students want things like this and start doing them on their own. He doesn’t think that the students should foot the bill for the cell phone app either. There will be a meeting about the “I” in a few weeks. Homecoming is coming up next week. The Quad and Cadet Field should be decked out in orange and black. He thinks that the College of Business will set the bar high. He feels that everyone should go big or go home with their decorations. He wants to set the tone and lead by example. He hopes that soon everyone will know the fight song and dress in Bengal colors all the time.

Senator Harker thanked the president for what he does around campus. He wondered if the bonfire was going to happen this year. President Bloxham stated that it was. It should be great. Senator Fuller asked about the estimated cost for the Bengal eyes. President Bloxham noted that it was around $8,000.

Senator O’Neil thanked the president for pushing forward with the Bengal eyes project. President Bloxham wondered if there was anything going on with the residence halls during homecoming week. Senator Johnson did not know of anything, but she could push forward the president’s suggestions. President Bloxham hopes that RHA and the RAs will team up for door decorating in the residence halls. Senator Pitcock noted that the RAs are required to go to one event during homecoming. Senator Valencia wondered if there was a list of what they can and cannot do for decorating at their colleges. President Bloxham stated that there is, but she would have to talk to the department chairs. Senator Daniels wondered if the True Bengal event would be going on with the path to the pillars being blocked off. President Bloxham thinks that the path by Macintosh is still open. Senator O’Neil added that the path behind the South Complex is also open.
