Idaho State University
Department of Communication Sciences & Disorders

Curriculum for Campus Pre-Professional Program
In Speech Language Pathology

Fall Semester

CSD 1151/L*  ASL and Lab (recommended, not available in Meridian)  4 credits
CSD 3321  Clinical Phonetics and Phonology  3 credits
CSD 3321L  Clinical Phonology and Phonetics Lab  1 credit
CSD 3330  Language Science and Development  3 credits
CSD 4405  Neuroscience for Comm. Disorders  3 credits
CSD 4445  Aural Rehabilitation  3 credits

(13-17 credits)

Spring Semester

CSD 3315  Clinical Processes: Pediatric  3 credits
CSD 3325  Speech Sound Development & Disorders  3 credits
CSD 3335  Language Disorders  3 credits
CSD 3341  Audiometry and Hearing Science  3 credits
CSD 4417  Interdisciplinary Evaluation Team  1 credit
CSD 4435  Speech and Hearing Science  3 credits
CSD 4435L  Speech and Hearing Science Lab  1 credit

(16-17 credits)

Summer Semester  (all classes taken online)

CSD 4420  Clinical Processes: Adult  3 credits
CSD 4460  Educational Audiology  3 credits
CSD 4425*  SLP Methods and Applications  3 credits

(6-9 credits)

Notes:

*Optional courses, not required but highly suggested. A background in Sign Language is strongly encouraged.
If CSD 4417 is not taken during the Pre-Professional sequence, CSD 5517 (Interdisciplinary Evaluation Team) is required at the graduate level.

Prior to or during the Pre-Professional year, to be admitted to a graduate program, students must show evidence of having taken the following:
  o Biological sciences course (at least a 100-level university course)
  o Physical sciences course (at least a 100-level university course)
  o Statistics (college-level course; topics should include descriptive statistics, probability, correlation, t-tests, and Analysis of Variance)
  o A basic Social Sciences course, preferably Psychology

Successful completion of the Pre-Professional Program does NOT ensure the student a seat in the Speech-Language Pathology Program. Students must apply to the Graduate Program by February 1st of the year he/she would like to enter the SLP Master's Program.

2.2015