Introduction
On the morning of the first day of classes ALL Moodle ISU courses will become available to students. You can make courses available sooner or make your course unavailable after the first day of classes.

Changing the Availability of Moodle ISU Courses
1) Login to Moodle using your LDAP (ISU webmail) username and password.
2) From your Moodle homepage, find the course you wish to change and click on the title to access the course.
   a. Courses showing in orange are available to students
   b. Courses showing in gray are not available to students.
3) Under the Administration block, click .
4) Scroll down to the bottom of the page to locate the Availability section
5) In the Availability section, next to the Availability setting, click on the down arrow and select “This course is available to students” or “This course is not available to students”.
6) Scroll to the bottom and click .

You can visually check whether a course is available or not. Courses listed in orange are available to students. Courses listed in gray are not available to students.

For more information please see the teacher documentation at http://docs.moodle.org